11 v.

12 Phoenix Heliparts Incorporated, et al.,

13 Appellees.

No. CV-20-00555-PHX-DLR

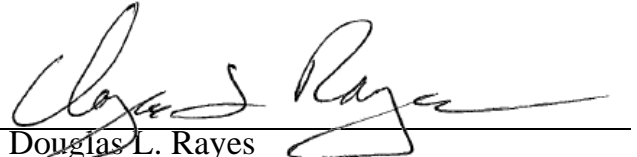

ORDER

16 Before the Court is Appellants' motion to withdraw the reference, which is fully 17 briefed. (Docs. 2, 7, 8.) Appellants have not shown cause for the Court to withdraw the 18 reference to the bankruptcy court in order to conduct its own proceedings to determine the 19 value of 41FF. The bankruptcy court had jurisdiction to enter a final decision as to the 20 value of 41FF and it did so. Displeased with the bankruptcy court's valuation, Appellants 21 would like a second bite at the apple. In seeking to withdraw the reference, they attempt 22 to collaterally attack the bankruptcy court's determination. Even if withdrawal of the 23 reference were procedurally proper, conducting an evidentiary hearing anew would not be 24 an efficient use of judicial resources and would create undue delay and impose significant 25 costs on the parties. The Court will therefore deny Appellants' motion. The Court will 26 also deny Appellees' request for fees without prejudice but will permit them to reassert 27 their request in a manner that complies with LRCiv. 54.2. Accordingly,

28 //

1 IT IS ORDERED that Appellants' motion to withdraw the reference (Doc. 2) is 2 DENIED. The Clerk of the Court is directed to terminate this matter.
